NEW YORK, June 7.—The Columbia, which started early today for Old Orchard, Me., on the first part of a projected transatlantic flight, returned to Curtiss field at noon.

Unfavorable weather conditions on the route to Maine were believed to have caused the pilot of the Columbia to turn back. No landing was made on the flight.

The takeoff was at 6:15 a. m., eastern daylight time.

Oliver C. Lehoultier, pilot and Arthur Argles, navigator, British war heroes, were the pilots on this second transatlantic flight to be attempted in the sturdy craft that carried Clarence Chamberlain and Charles A. Levine of Germany last year.

"We were in the air something like five hours," Argles said, "and most of the time you could hardly see your hand before your face on account of the fog. That condition was entirely unexpected."

"I talked to the weather bureau at 1 a. m., and was informed that available information indicated that conditions were good."

L. A. Congregational Pastor Charged With Unbecoming Conduct

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, June 7.—An ecclesiastical court trying him on charges of unbecoming conduct today heard Dr. Frank Dyer, head of the fashionable Wilshire Boulevard Congregational church, branded "a man of savage passion, ruthless selfishness and an ingrained liar."

The charges were made by Dr. Charles Aked, formerly assistant pastor to Dr. Dyer. He addressed his remarks to 149 ministers and laymen composing the body which will return a verdict on Dr. Dyer's fitness to continue at the Wilshire church.

"Unreliable, Untruthful"
"Dr. Dyer consistently and persistently has been unreliable and untruthful in manners large and small," Dr. Aked said. "He once attempted to exploit a girl secretary who would have been out of her position if the plan had succeeded."

The pulpit of the Mount Hollywood Congregational church served as a witness stand.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The National Education association has asked the National Electric Light association whether it favors a "clean up" of conditions under which power interests propagandize schools.

A letter sent to the N.E.A. at its Atlantic City convention said:

"We regret exceedingly that any college or university professor would sell his services to promote a purpose of this kind. Did any of these lead in the movement, or were they led into it?"

"In your judgment, should they be censured by their associations and institutions? Why not clean up the school side of the question while we are at it?"

"There are other propagandists who try to use the schools, some of them worse than yours. If you do a thorough job of house cleaning, it will help to rid the schools of other pests."

SOUTHERN CROSS TO LEAVE FIJI ISLANDS LATE TODAY FOR JUMP TO AUSTRALIA

Difficult Task of Loading Fuel Delays Takeoff From Suva

By SIR MAYNARD HEDSTROM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SUVA, Fiji Islands, June 8.—(Friday)—Delayed overnight by the tedious task of fueling its gasoline tanks, the monoplane Southern Cross waited on the sands of Nasalai beach today for the departure for Brisbane.

Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith and the three members of his crew indicated they would attempt to get away between 3 p. m. and 4 p. m. today (7 p. m. and 8 p. m. Thursday, Pacific time).

The Southern Cross was taken from the landing field in Suva to Nasalai beach yesterday with the expectation that the four airmen would get away before nightfall.

A government yacht left Suva harbor with gasoline and other supplies soon after the plane arrived.

Night Delays Fueling
Laborers worked valiantly against time to get the heavy drums of gasoline ashore, but night descended before the task was done and the flight was postponed until today.

It was necessary to carry the gasoline drums a considerable distance along the beach to the plane and the shallow water facing Nasalai beach presented a further difficulty by preventing the yacht from getting close ashore.

But for the delay of yesterday's scheduled departure for Brisbane the Southern Cross would have spanned the width of the Pacific in just a week.

A week ago today (Thursday) the Southern Cross left the Oakland airport on its 2418-mile flight to Honolulu.

Arriving there the next day, the crew tarried only long enough to rest from the first hop and have their plane refueled and overhauled.

Then they were on their way to Suva, a distance of 3138 miles from Hawaii.

20 Days by Boat
The fastest ocean liner takes 20 days for the voyage from San Francisco to Australia.

A great crowd was gathered at the beach to watch the departure of the Southern Cross and Captain Kingsford-Smith and his companions were keenly disappointed at the delay.

The legislative council of the Fiji Islands had adjourned its session so that the members could

Smith's Intention of Cruise Around Globe Revealed In Honolulu

PROPOSED ROUTE TOLD

By H. R. EKINS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
HONOLULU, June 7.—(Copy Press)—The present flight of the airplane Southern Cross from the United States to Australia may be merely the first part of an around-the-world flight.

Before leaving the Hawaiian Islands, Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith, chief pilot of the Southern Cross, revealed tentative plans for a continuation of his present flight back to the United States.

It is expected here that the formal plans will be announced when the Southern Cross arrives in Australia.

Route Outlined
The United Press has learned that Kingsford-Smith plans the following route in circumnavigating the globe:

Australia to the Dutch East Indies; thence to Calcutta, Karachi, Persia and England. The Southern Cross would make a tour of Europe and then go to Seattle, Spain.

From Spain the plane would fly to Senegal, Africa, and thence across the South Atlantic to Pernambuco, Brazil. From there the flight would be to Rio de Janeiro and thence down to Buenos Aires.

From Buenos Aires the flight would cross the Andes and up the west coast of South America to Central America. The tentative route calls for a flight from Central America to Mexico City and through interior Mexico to the United States.

Thus far Kingsford-Smith has not outlined where the around-the-world flight would terminate in the United States, although it is possible he might desire to return to Oakland, Calif. from which he started on the present flight to Australia.

W. I. STEWART, DIES SUDDENLY IN HOME TODAY

Willis I. Stewart, 552, well known Santa Ana accountant, died suddenly at his home at 214 South Broadway at 6 o'clock this morning. Death was believed due to a heart attack.

Mr. Stewart awakened early this morning complaining of feeling tired and did not attempt to get up from his bed. He suddenly became violently ill, and died before medical aid could be summoned.

A resident of Santa Ana for a number of years, Mr. Stewart was well known throughout the city. He formerly had charge of the commercial department of the Santa Ana high school, where he taught for three years, 1912, 1914 and 1915. He later was identified with the Sam Stein book store here and for the past three years was a member of the firm of Stewart and Taylor, accountants, in the First National bank building.

He was a member of the Knights of the Round Table and was a former secretary of the club. Mr. Stewart is survived by his widow, Mrs. Odessa Stewart. The body was removed to the Harrell Undertaking parlors on West Seventeenth street. No funeral arrangements have been made.

"Each representation made by the defendant was false, and made for the purpose of influencing and taking advantage of her love and affection for him," the complaint asserted.

As a consequence, it was contended, she has suffered greatly and has been deprived of her standing in the community.

nician of the Southern Cross when it was at Oakland airport preparing for the flight, told the United Press that Captain Kingsford-Smith discussed with him his ambition to fly around the world if the Australian venture proved successful.

McGravan's statement to the United Press followed closely the receipt of a cablegram from Honolulu saying Captain Kingsford-Smith had told friends there of his globe-circling plans before leaving for Suva.

Suva Hop Most Difficult Kingsford-Smith, according to McGravan, considered the Honolulu stage of the present flight and asked that McGravan say nothing of the contemplated world journey until the Southern Cross was safe at Suva.

"I promised Kingsford-Smith I would say nothing until he was in Suva," said McGravan. "Well, he's there now and I am violating no confidence to talk of the captain's plan to go around the world."

"He was certain the Southern Cross could make the trip. So am I. More certain now than ever before. The danger point was Honolulu to Suva. The rest should be easy."

McGravan is the mechanic who worked 30 hours, slept two and then put in 34 more hours of work when the Southern Cross was undergoing its final conditioning for the jump to Hawaii.

He also was associated with Kingsford-Smith and Uim when they attempted to set a new world's endurance record last fall.

Before adjourning, the legislative council passed a resolution congratulating the crew on their conquest of the air route from California to Suva and wishing them goodspeed on the remainder of the flight.

Captain Kingsford-Smith, commander of the Southern Cross, and Charles T. P. Uim, relief pilot, took the plane from the recreation park landing field in Suva to Nasellei beach.

Harry Lyon, navigator, and James Warner, radio operator, were left behind to lighten the weight on the takeoff from the little field. They went out to the beach by motor boat later.

Rumor To Be Off The four aviators stood anxiously waiting while the drums of gasoline were brought ashore and poured into the tanks of the Southern Cross.

It was not until darkness descended that Captain Kingsford-Smith finally postponed the takeoff.

If the plane leaves after 3 p. m., it will have the advantage of a longer runway since the tide will be out. It also will enable the crew of the Southern Cross to reach Brisbane, 1795 miles away, by daylight.

All three have issued statements that they are not seeking the vice presidential nomination.

The desire to select a western candidate from a farm state has prompted the Smith men to talk about Woolfson. Senator Key Pittman, of Nevada, also has been mentioned in this regard.

Dr. C. D. B. of Santa Ana, former state assemblyman from this district, and candidate for the state senate, filed his nomination papers yesterday. County Clerk J. M. Backs announced today.

Chester Kline, San Jacinto, former senator, when asked today if he intended to run for the office again, stated that he had made no decision in the matter. It had been rumored in Orange county that Kline was planning to become a candidate and that the possibility of two candidates running from Orange county might result in his throwing his hat in the ring. Kline stated today that these rumors had not emanated from him and that he never had made any statement regarding his possible candidacy in that connection.

William Schumacher, chairman of the board of supervisors, and candidate for re-election, also filed papers with Backs yesterday.

The defendant was represented in court by Attorney Dave Wettlin. Hyton is accused of stealing a used car from a lot owned by the Cadillac Garage company here. The machine was taken to Huntington Beach, where it was stripped and burned, it is reported. The car was the property of the Federal Finance company.

PLATFORM FOR STATE OFFICE TOLD BY CRAIG

Following the filing of his nomination papers for state assemblyman, Ted Craig, of Brea, candidate from the 11th district, declared today that, if elected, he will work hard for the interests of Orange county, that he is a firm believer in enforcement of all laws, that he favors an economical budget for the state and that he would do all in his power to make the laws operate for the benefit of the people and not the crooks.

"At the earnest solicitation of many of my friends from all over Orange county I have determined to become a candidate for the Republican nomination," he said. "If elected, I will consider the interests of Orange county as a whole above all other matters."

"I am a firm believer in strict obedience to the provisions of the state and national constitutions, and this includes all the amendments."

"I believe that a simple procedure should be enacted for the prosecution of law violators and that those who are convicted should be prosecuted without delay. I am in favor of eliminating long drawn out trials and dilatory tactics."

Craig stated that he is opposed to unnecessary taxes and would make it his special duty to vote for only necessary appropriations.

"However, I shall not lose sight of the growth of our state."

Craig, who numbers among his friends many veterans of the late war, asserted that, from his experiences in veterans' associations, he believes he is well qualified to vote on veterans' legislation and would do so in accordance with his best judgment.

"If elected, I will give my full time to the duties of studying proposed legislation so that I may act intelligently thereon," he said. "I shall at all times be very glad to consult with the people of Orange county concerning county or state matters. I realize that I would be the representative of Orange county in the legislature and that it would be my duty to see that the interests of my constituents were properly brought before the assembly."

PEACE OFFICERS HEAR CRIME ASPECTS AT GATHERING

Crime in its various aspects and methods of apprehending criminals were discussed by Nick Harris, of the Nick Harris Detective agency, Los Angeles, and Capt. Jimmy Dean, head of the detective force of the Los Angeles police department, at the regular meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers' association at Dana Point last night.

The members of the association were the guests of H. H. Woodruff of the Dana Point community, and were entertained in the Dana Point assembly hall. Other speakers on the program were Edward Trefz, of Los Angeles, a former reporter on the New York Tribune, who spoke on the relation of the peace officer to the public, and W. R. Osborne, of Huntington Beach. Trefz is now connected with the Dana Point company.

Dinner was served to the 200 officers and their wives present by Juan Foster and was a Spanish barbecue affair. The dishes made after famous old Spanish recipes. Music was furnished by the San Juan Capistrano orchestra. Capt. Henry Meehan, of Orange, was the captain of the squad of traffic officers who acted as waiters.

Mrs. Ada G. Walters, the original founder of Dana Point, furnished the beautiful flowers for the decorations of the hall. These were grown in her garden and at the close of the meeting the huge baskets and bouquets of roses and Bermuda lilies were presented to the wives of the peace officers.

Deputy Sheriff E. E. French, president of the association, presided over the brief business session at which the regular routine business was transacted.

LEADERS OF Y. BOYS' CLUB IN FINAL SESSION

The final meeting for the season of leaders of Y. M. C. A. boys' clubs was held Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A., with 37 leaders and committeemen present. Reports indicated a successful year in the work of the clubs as it has been carried on in numerous churches under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. boys' department. More than 300 boys have been included in the membership of these clubs, carrying on a program of character building activities and recreation centering in their church relationships.

These leaders who have been giving their time to the work during the past months are now looking ahead to even more effective service for next season. Their immediate interest is in the summer camp for boys at Oseola, which opens for Santa Ana boys on June 21.

Two inspiring talks were given to the leaders. Dr. George A. Warner discussed the achievements of leadership, and warned the men to keep in mind their responsibility for the boys, even during the vacation season.

C. L. Chaffee spoke on "A Look Ahead" and pointed out many items for extension and improvement of the work for next year.

With the growing interest among the churches and Sunday School workers, Secretary T. P. McKee is laying his plans for handling a larger number and a more intensive program starting next fall than has ever been put on locally. If the adult leadership can be found and trained, he expresses confidence that the number of club members can be doubled in the fall and that is one of the goals set for the study of the church co-operative committee on boys' work for the community.

Placentia Pastor Gives Resignation

PLACENTIA, June 7.—The Rev. G. A. Manshardt, who has been pastor of the Presbyterian church for six years, has resigned and will retire from active work until his health improves.

They recently moved from the parsonage on Orangegrove avenue to their property on Orangegrove avenue, where they expect to make a permanent home.

After a period of rest, the Rev. Mr. Manshardt will resume church work if his health permits.

Assault Complaint Lands Man In Jail

Charged with assault, Joy Goodrich, 26; Atwood, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff A. L. Steward last night and lodged in the county jail.

According to the officer, Goodrich is alleged to have struck Paul Arbella, Atwood, when Arbella jumped on the side of his machine. Goodrich said he did not understand the man's actions and struck him when he jumped on the machine, according to Steward.

HEALTH CAMP OF COUNTY TO OPEN JUNE 14

The Orange county health camp, near Orange County park, will be formally opened with fitting ceremonies June 14. It was announced today by H. A. Lake, president of the Orange County Tuberculosis association, which sponsors the health camp, with the co-operation of other service organizations and public-spirited citizens throughout the county.

Past experiences with the camp as operated on a summer-time basis is said to have proven that children threatened with lung trouble, lack of development or undernourishment, can be built up in health and spirit by the methods and treatment adopted by the association.

With this background of experience, preparations are being made to operate the camp on a year-round basis so that children who respond to treatments slowly, or require a longer period of care and observation, can attend school at the camp under proper health supervision.

A school house is now being built, the units already there are being renovated and remodeled, an electric cooling plant is being installed, and the entire camp being prepared for occupancy later this month, according to Mrs. Amelia Meagher, executive secretary of the association, who has had charge of the camp for the past two summers.

Before the formal opening dinner and ceremonies, which are set for June 14, the supervisors are expected to make an official visit to the camp, to familiarize themselves with the work and accomplishments of this phase of the work of the Tuberculosis association.

150 ASSEMBLE FOR DINNER OF TOASTMASTERS

Coming as the climax of a year of successful work in public speaking, nearly 150 representatives of the Toastmasters' clubs of Southern California assembled at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. last night for a joint program of speeches and interchange of thought.

Representatives were present from the clubs at Anaheim, Los Angeles, Ontario, Pomona, Orange in addition to the local club, and the Toastmasters' club of Anaheim, and the Ladies' forum of Santa Ana.

Following the dinner, musical numbers were presented by Maurice Phillips and Mrs. Livesey.

President Sam Hurwitz of the Santa Ana club conducted the meeting, and welcomed the visitors before introducing W. K. Hilliard as the toastmaster for the evening. The program included one speaker from each club represented. The subjects were chosen with reference to any plan or theme, and thus gave an exceptionally fair view of the type of work being done by the clubs.

James Haffron, president of the Anaheim Toastmasters' club, started the program with a vigorous appeal in behalf of the "universal draft" law which has been fostered by the American Legion as a means of promoting peace. Both in arrangement of his material, and in the delivery of his argument, Haffron showed great proficiency, and his effort won hearty commendation.

In striking contrast was the second speaker, E. E. Henderson, of Los Angeles, who presented an exceedingly clever discussion of the uses of beauty, as expressed in the flowers of California. His original presentation, well chosen language, and effective delivery caught the attention of the audience from the first sentence, and held it throughout.

Prohibition was the subject dis-

Anglers Arrange Benefit Program
 NEWPORT BEACH, June 7.—The Balboa Angling club will present the Orana players in a benefit program at the new Ritz theater in Balboa June 12. It was reported here today by M. S. "Robbie" Robinson, president of the club. The program will open at 8 p. m. and will include a complete vaudeville program.

The Orana players are well known in Orange county and will present a new "rollic" on the stage here. The players are planning on moving to Newport Beach soon while their theater at Orana is being remodeled. The acts to be presented Tuesday night include orchestra selections, songs, dances, juggling acts and short skits.

Proceeds from the program will be used by the Angling club in purchasing trophies to be awarded for various fishing contests.

WRITER TELLS HOW OLD MEN REMAIN YOUNG
 "What, after all, is an old man?" queries Wallace Meyer in The Magazine of Business. And then, in answer to his own question, Mr. Meyer relates, "I saw some at lunch today. Nervous, worrying about the new boss and his policies. Their stomachs farther from their chests. Cigars in their top pockets. Skin dried out from too much steam-heat. Old men at 35, 40, and 45. A group of high-pressure salesmen whom I watched 'off guard'."

When, then, is a man old? According to Meyer, "A man is old not when he reaches a certain year mark but when he makes up his mind he is through, when he lets his mental fire go out. That may come early or late, depending on the man's training, his view-point, and his interest in life."

As representative young old-men, Meyer cites several. Among these is William Howard Taft. He is working today at the job of Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. His years are 71.

"I think of three other men I know whom younger men may think are getting old," continues Meyer. "But measured by their activities these 'seniors' have a great deal more go than many 'freshmen.'"

"First comes Moses Hooper, America's oldest practicing lawyer. Last spring his picture was in the papers because he appeared before the United States supreme court to argue a case, and did so, in masterly fashion, without referring to his brief. His years are 92."

"Frank Vanderlip, former United States treasurer, is having a great time working out a comparatively new line of activity for him—California land development. His years are 64. I had a friend who died recently—I believe from self-imposed overwork—in Montreal—at the age of 71. C. E. E. Usher, general passenger traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific railway, carried responsibility granted to few men—and yet when he died at 71 he was planning aviation activities for his railroad 10 years in advance of his time."

"There are other men as illustrative of the best of the sometimes-called 'old' man. There's Thomas A. Edison, 81; Trader Horn, 73; E. C. Fahrney, in the sixties; Dean E. A. Birge, 77; Henry Ford, 65; H. S. Firestone, 60, George Bernard Shaw, 73; Sir Thomas Lipton, 78."

"Keen. Resourceful. Constructive. Refining the gold that saturates a background of experience. Knowing what matters, and what does not matter. Looking ahead. That is the way older men play the game. They make every move count, because they know from experience what is worth doing and what is not."

As a parting shot, Meyer says, "So long as the mental fire is kept burning, we had better not indulge in any nonsense about a man's being an old one. If we do, he is likely to make us look like mental mopeheads."

LIBERTY!
 WEST ORANGE, N. J., June 6.—Howard Mitchell has the story of his boy friends' coming with envy. Howard, let it be known, started to school last September, his sixth birthday. Soon afterwards he took ill with measles and was away from school two weeks. Returning, he had an attack of scarlet fever. Cured of that, he went to school only to catch the chicken pox.

MOTORISTS USING CAUTION, SAYS COP
 NEWPORT BEACH, June 7.—Traffic violations on the coast highway are becoming fewer and fewer, according to George Stinson, "warbling cop," a member of the state traffic squad. While the road is one of the heaviest traveled in the state, motorists using it are exercising a great deal of caution, Stinson reports.

Stinson, who formerly was a volunteer in Huntington Beach, has been in the line recently as a member of the Santa Ana Camarillo club recently and has been heard in solo numbers at several entertainments. Stinson sang at a meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers' association at Dana Point Wednesday night. He has been under the direction of Leon Eckles, Santa Ana musician.

This one minute test shows how you can get months of extra service from your next tires! . . .

BALLOON tires are soft. They yield. Their tread flattens against the road. The center compresses, letting the shoulders of the tread come down to the ground.

Simple facts—but what a tremendous effect they can have on mileage!

Suppose the center had bulky masses of rubber where it should be flexible. Then pressure would crowd the tread out of shape—distorting the shoulder rubber—and uneven, choppy wear would shorten the life of the tire.

But Goodrich Silvertowns are molded to the shape of the famous hinge-center tread design.

NEW ZONE LAW CONSIDERED AT LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, June 7.—Consideration of a new zoning ordinance to replace the present amended one, discussion and consideration of the Broadway improvement district under the Mattoon act, a week's addition time given to city treasurer-elect Vernon Rush to qualify for the office, and reading of the fire ordinance were the chief items of business before the city council last evening, with a leave of absence granted to Mayor Frank B. Champion because of illness of his father.

City treasurer James B. Neel explained to the council that he was still acting in that capacity despite the April election and installation of officers on April 10, due to the fact that Mr. Rush had failed so far to qualify.

The new zoning ordinance, not presented formally, would take the place of the one which has been several times amended. City Attorney Vernon W. Hunt asked that the council as a whole consider a new ordinance, which would provide for an industrial district in addition to two zones as now provided. The ordinance to repeal the present ordinance went to third reading.

A formal resolution instructing City Engineer A. J. Stead to prepare plans and specifications for Broadway improvements was adopted. Mr. Stead, who had been ordered to prepare maps, plans, specifications and estimates by the previous council, was ready to report, and laid the maps before the council.

By the resolution he is permitted an eight per cent fee, being now on contract instead of salary. The project is expected to cost $27,000, and the district is divided into four zones. Work is to be under the Mattoon act, bonds to run 200 years, payments deferred for five years. The estimated assessed value, according to the appraisal by the assessor, is $101,000.

BANKERS CONVENE
ORANGE, June 7.—Roy Edwards and B. S. Brubaker were members of a party of Orange county bankers who attended the meeting of the Los Angeles chapter of the American Institute of banking recently. ## Bond Election For Westminster Backed By C. of C.

WESTMINSTER, June 7.—The subject of school bonds for the Westminster district was taken up at Tuesday evening's meeting of the chamber of commerce and the members went on record as favoring another bond election to be held at a near date with the cutting of the amount voted on at the recent bond election for $25,000. The last election resulted in a tie. No other business was transacted on account of the small number present because of a misunderstanding of the meeting date. A call meeting is scheduled for next week.

PAVING PROPOSALS STIR LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, June 7.—Street paving proposals, which have tentatively come before the council, promise lively conflicts of interests before the issue is settled, according to present indications.

General notice was given some weeks ago by N. E. West of intention to form an improvement district which would include Ocean, Park and Laguna avenues, Central, Beach, Short, First and an unnamed street. This notice consisted of going before the Merchants' association and the chamber of commerce and laying before them plans of what it was planned would be done. Their endorsement of the project was asked. The proposal had been rumored for nearly a year.

At a mass meeting at the school house, called by the school trustees to get an expression of opinion and instructions from the property holders and citizens, school property being involved, some sharp questions were asked of Mr. West. Considerable opposition was manifested.

Since that time a petition for the unnamed street, with different specifications stipulated, has been filed with the city clerk and a petition is being circulated for the improvement of First street with specifications calling for different material and depth of paving. Opposition to the project of widening Ocean avenue has been voiced also.

President Coolidge's proposed five-year naval building program, together with construction already authorized and under way, would cost a grand total of $4,178,434,000.

The funeral services were conducted at the C. W. Coffey funeral parlors by the Rev. Earl Lyerle Cochran of the First Presbyterian church, Orange, of which church Mrs. Montgomery was a member. Interment was made in the Fairhaven cemetery.

"OLD GOLD" ran away with the show,

says H. B. Warner

in blindfold cigarette test

"It sounded like an all-star cast when they handed me the four leading cigarette brands to smoke in the blindfold test. But one of the four ran away with the show . . . for I picked Old Gold instantly. There's a mildness and a smoothness to Old Gold that makes it stand out in any company."

H. B. Warner

Why you can pick them . . . in the dark

Three types of leaves grow on the tobacco plant . . . coarse tobacco, yielding to the throat . . . withered tobacco leaves, without taste or aroma . . . and the American, mild in taste and fragrant smoking qualities. Only the American is used in Old Gold.

How this test was made

The test was conducted by the representative of a leading Eastern University and a distinguished scientist selected by them. Mr. Warner was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands while blindfolded, choosing his favorite after the test.

"Which one is your favorite?"

From the west's verdant valleys thru desert wastes, mountain passes and long, bleak stretches of open plains, these modern seven-league giants of transportation speed on, day and night, in all weather, to serve a nation.

Starting in 1912 with one Ford on a 50-mile run, the Pickwick Stage line has expanded to the mammoth proportions of 1,200,000 bus miles per month, and $5,000,000 in equipment. It serves every major residence area in the west, and links the west with the east on a double trunk line.

Union non-detonating gasoline has furnished the swift, powerful, continuous thrust to this great transportation success. Pickwick used over 2,000,000 gallons of this non-detonating fuel in 1927.

Note the Non-detonating features

Union non-detonating gasoline delivers power progressively and continuously throughout the full stroke of the pistons. It doesn't deal one sudden, crashing blow. The "all the way down" thrust eliminates vibration, wear and tear. A smooth, quick pick-up and powerful, stressless speed comes from Union Non-detonating Gasoline.

What "Success-Tested" Means to You

Of course you can't give the gasoline you use a laboratory test, but the great institutions who painstakingly check results for mileage and power can be your yardstick. These firms have "service-tested" gasoline. They are successful firms. They not only use Union for its brilliant performance, but for its absolute uniformity—wherever they get it.

The Union Shield on any service station is a mark of "success-tested" quality for you.

OFFICERS OF ORANGE COUNTY P. T. A. INSTALLED AT BEACH; NAME STANDING COMMITTEES

Mrs. F. O. McCulloch, president of the California Parent-Teacher association, installed the county officers of that organization at an impressive ceremony at Huntington Beach yesterday. The meeting, held in the high school auditorium, began at 9:30 a. m. and lasted until 5 p. m., with a short intermission for lunch, which was served in the high school cafeteria.

Mrs. Janie V. Kelsey, who was recently elected fourth vice president of the California P. T. A., presided at the executive board meeting.

Ted Craig, of Brea, addressed the morning session. Craig chose co-operation as the subject of his talk and thanked the P. T. A. for the co-operation that had been given him as chairman of the Boy Scout jamboree committee of the American Legion. He told of the child welfare work being done at the Legion home at Burbank and of the plans for the proposed home at Garden Grove, which is being fostered by the 40 and 8. Craig announced a few weeks ago that he will be a candidate for the state assembly in the fall elections. A detail from the Los Angeles police department under Lt. R. C. Combes gave a safety program, which included moving pictures and a lecture on traffic problems.

The treasurer, Mrs. Straw, reported that the association has $192 cash on hand. Mrs. William Holve, financial secretary, reported $200 members for the county this year, for which the local organizations paid the county association $1320. It was announced that the association of this county is supporting a scholarship fund from which one young woman and one young man have received loans this year to assist them in college.

Mrs. Florence Summers, editor and business manager of the Parent-Teacher News of Orange county, presented an auditor's report signed by C. H. Seamans, which showed that the publication had been a financial success from the first issue. The cash on hand totals $142 and there is a revolving fund of $200 which leaves a net balance of $342.

At the beginning of the afternoon session the elementary school chorus of 70 voices sang "The Black Bird," "My Golden Knight" and "The Childhood of Hiawatha." The chorus was directed by Miss Frances Van Horn. Miss Ardis Cuttler assisted in training the chorus. Miss Lily Hansen accompanied at the piano. Lawrence Honnell of the second grade of the Huntington Beach schools, gave two whistling numbers and Meridith Manly entertained with two musical readings. The high school girls' quartet sang "The Beautiful Ship of Toyland" and "Remember On the Stairs."

George Peterkin of the state traffic department made a talk in which he advocated that all school bus drivers be given an examination by his department. Half of the drivers do not know the simplest traffic laws, according to Peterkin.

Mrs. Lucas, editor of the state P. T. A. magazine, and Mrs. Thornton, state chairman of publicity, addressed the meeting. Mrs. W. W. Hopps, formerly of this state and now living in Mexico, told of educational conditions in Mexico. She stated that it is against the law for any city to have schools beyond the sixth grade except by special permission of the national government. Parents have one ambition for their children and that is to send them to the United States for their education. Mexican educators are making a great effort to improve their school conditions, Mrs. Hopps said.

Mrs. Kelsey was presented with a leather traveling case as a loving token of the appreciation of the P. T. A. for her loyal service during the past two years as county president. In accepting the splendid gift she pledged her loyalty to the coming administration.

Mrs. McCulloch told the convention that the great strength of P. T. A. comes from the fact that it is an unbroken chain of local, district, state, and national organizations. Any evaluation of the great national movement must recognize the unity of purpose throughout this organization, she said. Each local organization must truly work for the child or give way to an organization that will hold to this purpose. The P. T. A. is not a social club nor a civic improvement association, Mrs. McCulloch said.

The incoming officers were called to the stage and Mrs. McCulloch addressed each new officer as to her duties and responsibilities. The officers installed were: President, Mrs. Neal Beisel, of Santa Ana; second vice president, Mrs. Fay R. Spangler; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Floyd Benson, Anaheim; recording secretary, Mrs. Arthur C. Pickering, Torrance; and auditor, Mrs. Charles Schweinfest, Anaheim.

President Beisel announced her county chairmen as follows: Elements and magazines, Mrs. C. H. Marcher, Santa Ana; founders day, Mrs. J. L. Backs, Anaheim; membership, Mrs. Nell Axup, Anaheim; high schools, Mrs. Mary B. Robertson, Santa Ana; grade schools, Mrs. Wellington De La Vergne, Huntington Beach; American citizenship, Mrs. T. W. Clark, Savannah; juvenile protection, Mrs. W. B. Tedford, Santa Ana; legislation, Mrs. G. W. Lewis, Garden Grove; visual education, Mrs. P. Bungay, Anaheim; recreation and safety, Mrs. C. C. Troy, Anaheim; art, Mrs. A. B. Marshall, Laguna Beach; drama and music, Mrs. G. H. Goodale, Anaheim; school education, Miss E. Kate Rea, Anaheim; home service and education, Mrs. Dan Marshall, Anaheim; spiritual training, Dr. George Warner, Santa Ana; children's reading, Miss Margaret Livingston, Santa Ana; thrift, Mrs. Floyd Morris, Westminster; child hygiene, Dr. K. H. Sutherland, Santa Ana; mental and social hygiene, Mrs. J. L. Morris, La Habra.

Chairmen at large: Publicity, L. C. Denslow, Huntington Beach; finance, Mrs. J. V. Kelsey, Garden Grove; reception, Mrs. Charles Brewster, Huntington Beach; registration, Mrs. F. H. Greenwood, Tustin; organization, Mrs. G. N. Greer, Anaheim; Indian welfare, Mrs. Florence Summers, Newport Beach; program service, Mrs. Earl Morris, Santa Ana. Standing Committee: Reception, Mrs. J. E. Waters, Orange; P. T. A. News, Madam Florence Summers, Earl Morris, Fay Spangler, R. W. Marvin, J. V. Kelsey, Neal Beisel, and Arthur Lindsey.

The Falkland Islands, a British possession, are located in the Atlantic ocean, east of the southern extremity of Argentina.

The British empire covers about one-fourth of the world's habitable land surface—13,406,103 square miles.

Harvey Bennett returned Sunday night from a week's fishing trip in the Mammoth lake country. Not many fish are being caught at the present time, Mr. Bennett said.

Mrs. Harvey Swarts and daughter, Mae and Stella, motored to Alhambra Tuesday evening to see Mrs. Ann Swarts, of Tustin, who, while visiting her daughter, fell and broke her hip. She is improving and will soon be removed from the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Thompson, of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wade and daughter, Sabina, of Orange, and Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Frunty, of Tustin, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Osterman Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Osterman were Los Angeles visitors over the week end. Harvey Bennett and George Osterman and Harvey Gillick, of San Juan Capistrano, left Wednesday.

Enduring as "Half Dome"

Cylcol... the oil with "endurance beyond belief"... eliminates carbon troubles.

Stability The new Cylcol will stand the hardest kind of usage. It is refined to meet the severest conditions of heat and pressure developed by the modern high compression engines, assuring you an unbroken oil film where heat, pressure and friction are greatest.

No Acids The new Cylcol refining process eliminates the use of acids, though most refineries use them. While acids clear the "crude oil" they chemically change its structure and composition, thus seriously cutting its lubricating value.

The new refining process of Cylcol is different in every respect. It selects from the "crude" those elements of greatest lubricating value and stability in performance, rejecting at the same time those elements which readily break down under engine heat and cause excessive carbon deposits.

So Cylcol gives a protective oil film on cylinder walls and moving parts, not vapor at the breather pipe. Less Carbon As to carbon, Cylcol like all other oils deposits less carbon than any other oil. The most exhaustive tests have proven that statement.

And even more important, the carbon that is deposited by Cylcol is soft and easily removable. It is not hard or sticky and cannot scratch a cylinder.

Prove it Yourself For these reasons you will find that Cylcol gives you the finest results you have ever known—more perfect lubrication, "endurance beyond belief" and the elimination of carbon trouble.

So fill your crank case with Cylcol. You can identify it by the new transparent green-gold color.

MESA GRAMMAR SCHOOL PUPILS GET DIPLOMAS

COSTA MESA, June 7.—Over 400 parents, relatives and friends witnessed the graduation exercises held for the class of 1928 of the Costa Mesa grammar school last night.

Members of the 8B class greeted those attending and ushered them to their seats.

As the school orchestra played the procession, the graduates and members of the faculty entered the auditorium and took their places on the stage.

The Rev. Lyman R. Bayard offered the invocation, after which the school orchestra, led by L. L. Gilmore, played the overture "Gloria," by Laurendeau. The program which followed consisted of piano solos by Roberta Sutherland and Ethel Hoffman, a vocal duet by Margaret Mason and Maydella Allen and vocal solos by Miss Florence Cairns, the instructor of music.

Marilla McIntee gave the class history, followed by Ramona Raina, who acted as valedictorian, choosing as her subject, "Seize the Opportunity."

Of much interest to all was the class prophecy, which was given in the form of a skit 15 years hence by Olive Hatch and Bernice Wyers.

The class sang two songs, one, "I Love a Cottage" by Stott-O'Hara, and "Bells of the Sea" by Lamb-Solman.

Grow S. Brown, president of the board of trustees, presented the graduates with their diplomas. Mr. Brown took occasion to remind the class of the value of their eight years of training and cautioned them to always play fair in the future.

The Rev. Mr. Bayard pronounced the benediction.

The audience remained standing while the graduates and faculty left the auditorium to the strains of a recessional by the school orchestra.

The class officers are: President, Margaret Mason; secretary and treasurer, Maydella Allen. The class colors are old rose and gold and the class flower is a rose.

Treasure Hunt Yields Array of Gifts to Bride-elect

Miss Evangeline C. Bryant of the Spurgeon school staff, was complimented at a recent delightful party given by Mrs. Florence Hicks and Mrs. Marvella Bryant, in the home of Mrs. Hicks, 526 South Barton street.

The lovely pastel tones of lavender, pink and yellow were given prominent place in the decorations, many flowers adding charm to the scene. Tables were placed for two different games, guests preferring bridge gathering in one group, while beano players formed the second. A graceful cut glass vase was awarded as first prize in each contest. Mrs. Desmond Mumby being the bridge player so rewarded, and Miss Harriett Koster taking beano honors. Attractive pictures were consolation gifts awarded Miss Helen Kennedy in bridge and Mrs. Glen Breeding in beano.

Miss Bryant shared in the gift bestowal, for she was given an amusing little verse which started her on a "treasure hunt." After following the first clue to a successful finish, yet other verses led her to other gifts until the evening drew to a close, she had collected a chest full of treasures. These will all find a setting in her future home, for she is to become the bride of Anthony Stark of Crosby, Minn., late in June. Mr. Stark is a railroad engineer in Minnesota, and the wedding will take place in that state.

After the final shower gift had been found, Mrs. Hicks and Miss Bryant prepared the card tables for serving cake, heart-centered ice cream squares, and coffee, to their guests who were, in addition to their honorees, Miss Evangeline Bryant, Mrs. William Ayres of San Clemente, Mrs. William Murphy of Los Angeles, Mrs. Desmond Mumby of Costa Mesa, Miss Helen Kennedy, Mrs. Ray Wych-off, Mrs. H. Collins, Mrs. Carter, Miss Harriett Koster, Mrs. Jack Hubbard, Mrs. Glen Breeding, Mrs. Ray Boyd, Mrs. McMullen, Mrs. Everett Mann and Mrs. Wm. Madiera.

Popular Girl Wedded To Angelenan at Home Ceremony

When Miss Laurene Sauers became the bride of W. Paul Owens of Los Angeles, Tuesday night, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sauers, Yorba street, Tustin, she was a lovely bride indeed, and the ceremony was in a setting of unusual charm.

For a delicate pink was combined with white in the decorative scheme adopted, and the whole home was a-bloom with unusually lovely pink gladioluses sent from Encinitas by Edward Healy, a close friend of the young people. In the living room, a graceful archway was arranged before the big fireplace, its lattice entwined with green fern and snowy St. John lilies, with a canopy of Cecil Brunner buds and pink sweet peas. Large baskets of lilies were placed at either side of the archway, and from the very top was suspended a white wedding bell tied with pink tulle. Mrs. D. A. Bear sent the waxed lilies, and the decorating was a labor of love on the part of Mrs. Sauers and Mrs. Mary Rowley, her mother.

Preceding the ceremony, Robert weaved the ceremony, "I Love You Truly" by Carle Jacobs Bond, and "At Dawning" by Cadman, with Miss Ruth Armstrong as his accompanist. Miss Doris Messinger of Laguna Beach played Lohengrin's Wedding March, to which Miss Sauers entered the room accompanied by Mr. Owens.

The chosen color scheme was emphasized by the gown in which the bride made such a lovely picture. For she had chosen delicate flesh pink georgette, whose extremely full skirt swirled gracefully long about her ankles. A band of pink and silver confining her hair, was caught with a cluster of orange blossoms, and her formal bouquet was of palest pink rosebuds, white sweet peas and maidenhair fern.

The marriage service was read by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and as the bride's vows were spoken, Miss Sauers handed her flowers to Miss Ruth Owens, small sister of the bridegroom, who stood near in a bouffant lilac pink organza frock.

Nearly half a hundred guests witnessed the impressive ceremony, and remained for the reception to offer their greetings to the happy young people. Wedding bell-centered ices in pink and white, were served with pieces of the three-tiered bride's cake, cut by the new Mrs. Owens.

The young people are spending their honeymoon in Big Bear where the parents of the bride have an attractive cabin. They will make their home in Los Angeles, where Mr. Owens is connected with the Los Angeles Times.

Ministerial Family Is Offered Welcome by Church People

The honored guests were welcomed to the parish in the names of the various women's organizations by Mrs. W. H. Haddon, and the Rev. Mr. Hatter responded with a cordial and friendly talk.

A musical program was presented under the direction of Leon Eckles, choirmaster of the church. It included solos by Agnes Todd Miller, Charles Wollaston, and Helen Winchell. They were accompanied by Miss Mabel Krause, church organist.

Refreshments were served by women of the parish.

"Well, this is really quite a treat," said Clowdy, as he took a seat upon the houseboat roof, and watched the donkey trudge along. "To make our little houseboat go we do not have to work. Ho, ho! But, if that donkey runs away we'll surely be in wrong."

"Oh, shucks, he's tame as he can be," snapped Scouty. "I can plainly see that we are very safe now. It's a real good chance to rest. That donkey man is very kind. As nice a friend as we could find. He's quite an odd fellow. Look how funny he is dressed."

The donkey trudged along on shore. He had a lot of strength in store and didn't seem to tire one bit. He held a steady pace. The old man watched the bunch, and cried, "How do you like this little ride?" "Oh, great," exclaimed wee Coppy, with a smile upon his face.

Bridge Series Launched With Smart Luncheon In Shafer Home

A luncheon and bridge series, with parties to be given in groups of two, was introduced yesterday by Mrs. Robert Ramsey Shafer and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Burr Shafer, when they greeted some forty guests in the former's home at 715 West Washington avenue.

Tables arranged for the luncheon, bore small earthenware bowls of flowers, exquisite in form and color. The smaller blossoms were used, with the larger, more brilliantly colored flowers reserved for background purposes. Mrs. David Carmichael had assisted in the artistic arrangement, while other friends aiding the hostesses, were Mrs. Harry T. Duckett and Miss Chalmers Lindsey.

For the afternoon of cards, tables were placed on the wide porches as well as in the living rooms. Mrs. Howard Timmons took first prize, Mrs. Roy B. Willis of Orange, second, and Mrs. Carmichael, special prize. The gifts were all attractive household linens.

The second in the series of parties was to be held today, with another group of two, scheduled for the near future.

Birthday Party for High School Girl

Miss Florence Ulrich, popular high school student, was pleasantly surprised early this week, when, on returning home from a little visit with her grandmother, Mrs. H. C. Ulrich of Valencia street, she found a group of school friends gathered to celebrate her sixteenth birthday.

The party had been planned by Mrs. E. B. Ulrich for her young daughter, and was held at their home, 2023 West Eighth street. Merry games were played, and appropriate refreshments were served at the evening's close. Miss Florence was presented with many pretty gifts by her guests.

WOMAN'S DAY

Even in this modern day it sounds like a page from some wild tale of fantasy. A plane with pilot and passenger is soaring above the clouds. The passenger attacks the pilot with a hammer. The pilot regains consciousness just as the plane is nose-diving towards the ground. He clutches the controls and manages to save their lives, though the plane was totally wrecked.

Told 25 or 30 years ago this story would have gone in the Faron Munchausen or Gulliver's Travels class. The very fact that it was really true a few days ago can only make us wonder what next!

WHAT OF IT?
That the wives and daughters of the tailor, butcher and ditch digger aim, think, act and look like millionaires' wives and daughters is the serious charge of Dr. Henry L. Adler, well-known psychiatrist. To which I can think of no better answer than "what of it?" His peevish reminder of the irate society dame who complained that with everybody wearing silk stockings nowadays, how could you tell who was society and who was of the more common herd?

CHILDISH COURAGE
A hymn sung by 200 children stopped a panic in a Philadelphia church the other Sunday. The flames were licking the altar cloths and the procession of child songsters was coming up the aisle when the panic started. As the children continued their marching and singing, however, the 500 adults sat down again while volunteer firemen from the congregation fought the blaze.

The biggest job in child training and one which, to date, the "newer child psychology" has not solved, is that of preserving instinctive childish calm and assurance. Perhaps the very price of growing older and learning is the loss of courage as one knows that there are things which must be feared. It's ignorance that explains childish courage.

"BAD GIRL"
"Bad Girl," the story of Eddie and Dot who merely duplicate hundreds of thousands of young Americans in their struggles of courtship, romance, marriage, and baby raising, certainly needs no better advertising than the refusal of Boston to sell it. But even so, I can't resist making a face at Boston and wondering what in the world's the matter with any

BRIDGE MADE EASY

by W.W. Wentworth

EDITOR'S NOTE: With this article, The Register begins a new series on bridge-playing. The series is by W. W. Wentworth, whose "Bridge Me Another" questions and answers recently attracted much attention. The series goes first into the basic principles of bidding.

1—Average Probabilities
Bridge is not an exact science, neither is medicine, neither are many of the other great sciences. Were Bridge just like mathematics—were it exact in every detail—it would not be a game.

There is, however, a Law of Averages upon which the game is based. Guesswork and luck play very small parts, and while good cards do help, the Law of Averages applies in the long run and each player holds cards which are as good as those held by his opponents. Of utmost importance, therefore, is a knowledge of the determining factors of the game—of the probabilities.

Average Winners
This knowledge can be gained only by learning what usually happens in Bridge under certain circumstances. The Law of Probabilities applies in every sphere of life, and, similarly, in this game. Bridge is a struggle between probabilities governed by simple principles and "hunches" governed by guesswork. Those who rely upon the former will in the long run be average winners; those who rely upon the latter will in the long run be average losers.

To become proficient in adding, subtracting, multiplying and dividing, you studied arithmetic. Having this knowledge, you need merely familiarize yourself with

AT THE THEATRE

WEST COAST WALKER
Douglas Fairbanks again "rang the bell" with his new production, Douglas Fairbanks as "The Gaucho," which opened last night at the West Coast-Walker theatre.

Romance, tense action, originality of treatment and captivating humor characterize this story of the South American border.

The star appears as a Robin Hood of the pampas, the dauntless captain of a band of outlaw riders, who captures a beautiful shrine city under the nose of the usurper's troops. The Fairbanks of old is in a freshly entrancing setting and he plays with the bravado and whimsical ardor suitable to the climate and its emotional people.

From beginning to end, "Douglas Fairbanks as 'The Gaucho'" holds its audience. The mystery of the shrine, the towering peaks, the battles of the Gauchos, the grim odds which face the hero and the lure of gold and fair women are powerful elements for screen success.

Lupe Velez, as the wild "girl of the mountains," appears in fascinating contrast to the "girl of the miracle," played by Eve Southern, whose spiritual power over the Gaucho leader evokes the jealousy of the other. Doug is betrayed into the hands of the usurper, but the repentant madcap brings the dusky horde of plainsmen to his rescue. The aged padre and the shrine girl are saved from the scaffold, while vast herds of steers, stampeded by the wily Gaucho, rout the usurper's forces from the city.

ORPHANS TAKEN IN BY Y. W. C. A. AT MONTEVIDEO

To meet an emergency situation in Montevideo, the Y. W. C. A. has adopted thirty little government orphans. Nothing the Association has done in a long time has awakened more immediate co-operation and aid according to Miss Beulah Noyes of Mystic, Connecticut. Miss Noyes has just returned from South America after a five-year sojourn.

"Every little orphan has been unofficially adopted by a Board member of one of the business girls' clubs as their protegee," says Miss Noyes. "The children range from eight to twelve years. The government funds allowed for each child made it possible for us to take a house near the beach for their use. This house has become the center of interest. Examinations are given by doctors and the children are progressing famously."

Adopting orphans is only one of many phases of Y. W. C. A. activity in Montevideo. A summer camp is maintained. The youthful members come from all ranks of society, from the minister of war's daughter and daughters of the oldest families to girls whose expenses to camp are paid by club members. Before going to Montevideo Miss Noyes was also in Chile and Buenos Aires as the physical education leader. She formerly taught in New London, Connecticut, and Pawtucket, Rhode Island.

Russia Hunts For Best Wheat Seed

MOSCOW, June 7.—More than a million seeds have been studied here by the "Institute for New Cultures" in an effort to determine which wheat can be grown most effectively in various parts of the Soviet Union.

Representatives of the institute gathered these seeds in the Mediterranean countries. In middle Asia, India, South America as well as the Soviet agricultural districts. They then sowed 20,000 experimental plots in different sections of the country. The resulting crops will be compared and seeds showing the greatest vitality will be sown over wider areas.

Lou Gehrig, of New York, and Joe Sewell, of Cleveland, were the only two American League baseball players who played in all their teams' games last season.

CHICAGO, June 7. — Favorable weather reports from the entire American and Canadian northwest belts sent wheat sharply lower on the spot and in the futures market. With favorable weather followed the decline while oats was influenced by the report of a poor crop.

At the close wheat was off 2 1/2% and all futures; corn was down 1 1/2% and oats was 1 1/2% lower.

Buying power seemed to be lacking in wheat and at the low of the present downturn. The cash market dropped.
